Common Core Grade 11–12 Standard (RL.11–12.3): Analyze the impact of the author’s choices regarding how to develop and relate elements of a story or drama (e.g., where a story is set, how the action is ordered, how the characters are introduced and developed).

GRADE LEVEL ACADEMIC DEMAND
Analyze Author’s Choices on How to Develop and Relate Elements of the Story/Drama

Linguistic Demands: The following are examples in English that may vary based on the language of instruction. In the first three levels (entering, emerging and transitioning), students can approach these linguistic demands in the new and/or home language.

- Use words and phrases (nouns and associated pronouns) to identify characters in a text.
- Use words and phrases to describe the setting (where a story or drama takes place or when).
- Use words and phrases to describe the events (verbs) in the story or drama.
- Use adjectives that describe characters.
- Use transitional words and phrases that signal change of direction in a plot (e.g., but, while, yet, as a result, even, though).

Example to Address the Linguistic Demands

Two days before the inauguration of Marcus Tullius Cicero as consul of Rome, the body of a child was pulled from the River Tiber, close to the boat sheds of the republican war fleet. Such a discovery though tragic, would not normally have warranted the attention of a consul-elect. But there was something so grotesque about this particular corpse, and so threatening to civic peace, that the magistrate responsible for keeping order in the city, Gaius Ocatvius, sent word to Cicero asking him to come at once. Cicero at first, was reluctant to go, pleading pressure of work. But I knew there was more to it than that. He had an unusual squeamishness about death. Even the killing of animals in the games disturbed him, and his weakness- for alas, in politics a soft heart is always perceived as a weakness – had started to be noticed. Harris, R.
